Things Not Seen Andrew Clements

Things Not Seen. By Andrew Clements. Book #1 in the "Things" books series. This is a YA novel. Bobby Phillips is an average fifteen-year-old boy. Until the morning he wakes up and can't see himself in the mirror. Not blind, not dreaming--Bobby is just plain invisible. There doesn't seem to be any rhyme or reason to Bobby's new condition; even ...

Things Not Seen (Things, #1) by Andrew Clements

Things Not Seen is a first-person novel written by Andrew Clements and his third novel after Frindle and The Landry News. The story revolves around Bobby as he deals with his 'disease,' tries to get back to normal, and even befriends a blind girl. The title is apparently taken from Hebrews 11:1, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" in the King James Version of the Bible. The book was originally released in 2002 by Philomel Books, an imprint of Penguin

Things Not Seen - Wikipedia

THINGS NOT SEEN is the story of a boy who begins to see who he really is when no one can see him at all. Andrew Clements once again amazes us with his powerful way of making his readers part of the story, questioning what they thought they knew all alog.

The first of three books sharing interconnected characters and narratives, Andrew Clements's Things Not Seen playfully explores ideas of difference, acceptance, and social invisibility through the tale of a teenage boy who quite literally disappears. The story is written in the first person, narrated by the protagonist, Bobby Phillips, and begins on a cold February morning as Bobby is getting up to attend school.

This poem was written in 1970 during my junior year in college, when I was living in a basement apartment. In 2001, I made a small change or two and reused this poem in a young adult novel, Things Not Seen. In that story, the poem is created by a blind girl. All of which proves that no thoughtful writing ever goes to waste.
