All worksheets and templates for planning are included. The plans are based on 4 hourly lessons a week. I also have the book on a PPT and a crochet pattern for Beegu which I can email to someone after purchase if needed. I got someone to crochet the Beegu for me and then each child had the chance to take it home at the end of each day for good work.

This is my week 3 of this unit. Week 1 and 2 were uploaded previously. I have also uploaded some of the resources I used that week including 2 fantastic powerpoint presentations I found on TES resources made by 'Trogfoot'. They are brilliant for explaining doubling and halving as they are visual and auditory. My class enjoyed watching them.

Few factors are as vital to teaching success as having well-designed lessons. Imagine a doctor who does not plan adequately for surgery, a contractor who builds a house as he pounds along using scrap lumber and duct tape wherever he finds them, or a teacher teaching a lesson with no foundation or clear direction.
